TIME TO FIGHT

We have for years given the navy efficiency and made a reputation for speed and hard work. In the Civil war the Portsmouth navy yard delivered gun boats in ninety days and beat out all the others. It is a fact that our yard has won its way by hard work, making good with the Navy Department in the Spanish war, which found this station ready for any service, and the World War the same. When the other yards did not want submarine work this yard took it up and has made such a record as to receive praise from the highest to the lowest official at Washington. All these accomplishments have been rewarded in finally seeing the fruits of our labors picked by the other yards. It is now planned to rob us of our Subs, some of them. Plausible reasons will of course be given. Is it not time to demand a square deal

GREAT THRONG SEES THE NEW POPE CROWNED

(By Associated Press)

Rome, Feb. 12—Pius XI, was crowned Pope in the basilica of St. Peter's today amid scenes of pomp and enthusiasm and in the presence of princes and dignataries of the church, the diplomatic representatives of foreign countries, members of the Roman aristocracy and a vast assemblage filling the great structure to the very doors. The ancient custom was carried out with impressive ceremonies and the newly elected pontiff now occupies the throne of the first Pope reported crowned, Leo III, who reigned from 795 to 816.

With the exception of Leo XIII and Benedict XV, who owing to the strained relations existing between the quirinal and the Vatican in 1878 and the World war in 1914 preferred to be crowned in the sistine chapel, the coronation of all the Popes elected since the erection of the basilica has been celebrated there.

Pius XI again blessed the crowds from the balcony of St. Peter's, this time nearly 200,000 people cheering, "long live the Pope", and waving handkerchiefs and admission tickets to the Vatican which had failed to find them room inside the great church.

It had been officially announced that owing to the cold weather, the Pope would not bless the crowds from the outer balcony, but such was the insistence and warmth of the cheers, lasting three-quarters of an hour that the pontiff finally decided he must answer the call of his children.

Thus it was long after one o'clock in the afternoon when the Holy Father appeared in the balcony surrounded by Cardinals Vanutelli, Gasparri, Mercier and Bourne and bestowed the apostolic benediction, again waving the familiar little shake of the hand as he disappeared into the interior of the Basilica.

Previous to this, the 60,000 gatherer within the edifice, having arisen, spontaneously had cheered the holy father, as Cardinal Lega placed upon the Pope's head the tira, emblem of supreme sovereignty. The cheers continued for so long that Pius was compelled to make signs with his hands as if seeking silence that the ceremony might continue. Old Romans who had witnessed the coronation of several Popes, say that the enthusiastic reception accorded the present Pope was never equalled in their memory.

Good will, sincerity and hope were the dominant emotions prevailing in Rome as the new spiritual leader among men was receiving the triple crown with the magnificent ceremony of the Roman Catholic church, but with a tingle of the matter of fact and business like manner obtaining in the world today. Silver bugles of the 19th century announced the coronation, and the red robes of the ancient cardinals mingled with the uniforms of the Swiss Guards recalled the middle ages, but the crush of spectators at the heavy bronze gates of a formerly forbidden vatican, revealed that something was changed in Rome.

Sixty thousand persons were packed in the noble basolica of St. Peters, silent and reverential with one thought pervading all—that the silent old man within the stalician walls may yet enjoy that which was the recreation of Young Ratti of Desio—climbing the Alpine mountains of his native land. Today he is a prisoner within the vatican walls, but tomorrow, the hope is freely expressed that he may be free to mingle among the crowds of the common people he loved so well.

The first message sent out broadcast over the world by Pope Pius expressed the wish for universal pacification and declared that, while the Holy See should not abandon any of the church's temporal prerogatives, a satisfactory arrangement whereby the

NEW HAVEN R. R. ASKS FOR LOAN OF $31,324,000

(By Associated Press)

Washington, Feb. 13.—The New York New Haven and Hartford railroad asked the Interstate Commerce Commission today for a government loan of $31,324,000. The road proposes asking the appropriation to use $26,258,000 in paying of maturing loans made in Europe which fall due April 1. Of the balance $3,000,000 is asked for provision of additions and betterment to the road and $206,000 for the purchase of new equipment.

LOWEST EXPORTS IN 7 MONTHS

(By Associated Press)

Washington, Feb. 13.—Exports in January aggregated $279,000,000, the lowest in seven months, and amounted to a decrease of about $15,000,000 from the month of December. Imports for January totaled $260,000,000 as against $237,000,000 the previous month and $209,000,000 in January, 1921. Exports as compared with January, 1921, represented a falling off of more then one-half of $375,000,000.

ASK FOR CIVIL OBEDIENCE

Bardoli, B. I., Feb. 13.—A resolution deploring the recent outbreak at Chauri Chaura and calling for suspension of civil disobedience until the wave of violent feeling has passed, was adopted today by the working committee of the National Congress.

The Standard Bearers Society of the Methodist church will meet this evening at the home of Miss Gertrude Bridle on Parrott avenue.

PRACTICALLY ALL THE MILLS CLOSE

One Hundred Thousand Cotton Mill Operators Out—Mills Close Gates—Government Officials Investigate

(By Associated Press)

Boston, Feb. 13.—Half of the 200,000 cotton mill operatives of New England were on reduced wage scales today and nearly one quarter of them, or between 40,000 and 50,000, were on strike in protest. As a result many plants were forced to shut down.

In New England where the wage cut and an increase in hours from forty-eight to fifty-four weekly was statewide the strike was equally general. The big plant of the Amoskeag at Manchester, the largest cotton mill in the world, and the Nashua and Jackson Mills at Nashua were among the several that had to shut down. Of the 30,000 workers employed in the cotton plants in New Hampshire only a few hands remained at the looms and benches today.

Lowell, Mass., was the other principal center of the fresh strike with the Hamilton Mills closed in the face of a strike order. The Bay State Cotton Mills there operated with somewhat reduced forces.

The situation in Rhode Island where strikes began two weeks ago was still developing. The plant of the Jenckes Spinning Company at Pawtuxet which had been operating notwithstanding a daily defection of 100 or 200 persons, had to close today when the strikers gained further additions from its workers. The Jenckes mill employs 2000 persons. In all more than 20,000 persons are on strike or without work as a result of the strike in Rhode Island, thirty plants of various textile processes being involved in that state where disorders last week caused the calling of cavalry to armories where they are still held and in other places where the walk-out occurred today there was no disorder.

Washington, Feb. 13.—Department of Labor Agents are in touch with the situation in the New England textile manufacturing districts where wage cuts have resulted in the calling of several strikes, it was said today by Secretary of Labor Davis.

The two Commissioners of conciliation were asked to investigate the situation some time ago when the possibility of disruption in Rhode Island and other states began to appear, but so far no steps have been taken by the Department.

SEC. DENBY RECOMMENDS CUT IN NAVY

(By Associated Press)

Washington, Feb. 13.—Secretary Denby appeared before the House Naval Committee today to recommend that the naval personnel for the next fiscal year be fixed at 90,000 men and 6,000 apprentices as compared with 100,000 men and 6,000 apprentices now authorized. Mr. Denby recommended that there be no reduction in the existing strength of line officers of the navy; that the first class at Annapolis be graduated and commissioned but that appointments to the Academy hereafter be reduced to three for each member of Congress instead of five.

The naval secretary recommended that 100 destroyers be placed out of commission. He estimated that the program he outlined would effectually save $70,000,000 in the next year's budget.

EVACUATION OF BRITISH TROOPS IS HELD UP

(By Associated Press)

Dublin, Feb. 13.—The evacuation of the British troops and other military forces from Dublin was unexpectedly suspended today and the sailing of the steamers due to leave for Holyhead and Liverpool with contingents on board was cancelled. It was thought that the suspension might be due to the events in Ulster. Officials at the military headquarters said they were unable to give any information on the subject, while Dublin Castle officials said they had nothing to do with the evacuation.

TAYLOR MURDERER LEFT NO CLUE

(By Associated Press)

Los Angeles, Feb. 13.—Mary Miles Minter, motion picture actress, issued a statement today through her attorneys, declaring that she had told investigators "all she knew" of the life of William Desmond Taylor, motion picture director, slain mysteriously twelve days ago. It said she could not conceive how any person could voluntarily wrong Taylor.

District Attorney Woolwine issued a statement condemning "faked and fraudulent investigators" on the case and declaring there was grave and serious doubt at the present time as to whether the murderer will ever be apprehended.

While police detectives and deputy sheriffs have not accepted defeat they admit the case is one of the most mysterious that ever came to their attention.

A sample of some of the "tips" is the following from a letter which seems to be in a woman's handwriting says: "I dreamed last night that Mr. Taylor was killed by a fair haired woman with a hooked nose. Find that woman and you will have the murderer."

Do You Wish to Help Some Local Families of Unemployed?

The Mayor finds men, women and children, through no fault of their own, in need. Would you like to help them?

The time has come when Portsmouth must have a drive at home. This city has given and given most generously to every outside call for help and now the home call is heard. The Mayor has called several prominent citizens together and all agreed that something must be done to help the unemployed and needy.

The Mayor has investigated a great many cases and he has also had the able and efficient assistance of Miss Hull of the Family Welfare Association. Immediate relief has been given many by this society and the Mayor has personally given assistance to a number but the calls are more than one can meet and it has been thought best to ask all who wish to help out.

The unemployed has not diminished but has increased. There are many large families and most all of the men do not ask for charity but want work. In the spring there are prospects of work, but for the present something must be done. Those who feel able and desire to contribute may send funds to the Mayor, Chief of Police Horley, Mr. McMahon at Green's Drug Store or Herald office. All contributions will be acknowledged through The Herald. We have responded to all "Drives" for everything. Why not a personal move to help our own brothers at home?

THE MILK INDUSTRY

is one of the giant industries and more closely related to health than any other, therefore educational institutions and advanced cities and towns take the precaution proved necessary by science.

Well informed people know the reason for pasteurization of milk and cream, which whole communities have learned by sad experience is the ONLY guarantee of absolute safety. Many a valuable dairy business selling the highest grade of milk has been ruined by failure to

Safeguard Health by Pasteurization

The producing dealers of Nashua copied our plan and have established a central pasteurizing plant and delivery in that city. Concord has very recently done likewise and report is current that Dover is considering the same with its problems of 74 separate milk supplies.

Hurried calls for pasteurized milk in serious illness emphasizes a general misconception. It is many thousand times more valuable than cure because

ARRESTED IN CONNECTION CHILD'S DEATH

Solicitor Waldron and Sheriff Spinney Act Following Autopsy at Concord.

Howard Brown, aged 24, and Mrs. Grace Rogers 19, who are alleged to have been living as man and wife, were arrested by Sheriff Spinney at Sandown on Sunday in connection with the death of Beatrice Cutting following an autopsy held in Concord on Saturday. The child is said to have died from a hemorrage of the brain due from a blow.

The action was taken by County Solicitor Waldron immediately after autopsy. Brown and Mrs. Rogers were brought to Portsmouth jail and were arraigned in Municipal Court this forenoon.

Suspicion as to the cause of the child's death was aroused when the body arrived at Concord from Sandown. Undertaker William H. Hoyt examined the body and found burns about the legs and abdomen of the girl. He immediately called in L. R. Sanders, medical referee, and Herbert W. Ralph, county solicitor.

State Pathologist Dr. Clara Israell, together with County Solicitor J. B. Waldron and Medical Referee E. B. Eastman of Rockingham County, were then notified, and an autopsy held. Dr. Israell announced the cause of the child's death and the couple in Sandown were arrested.

The death certificate stated the child died of meningitis, following indigestion. The child is the daughter of Mrs. Florence H. Cutting of Concord. Mrs. Cutting, in answer to an advertisement, went to Derry a few months ago to work for a McIntosh family. While in Derry, Mrs. Cutting became acquainted with Mr. Brown and Miss Rogers, who were living in Sandown as Mr. and Mrs. Brown.

These two people stated to Mrs. Cutting that they were greatly interested in the child and wished to bring her up. It is claimed that the Sandown parties stated that if Mrs. Cutting wished, she might pay for the keep of her child, but, if she did not wish to, they would care for the child, regardless of compensation.

She then entrusted her child to the care of the Sandown people. Mrs. Cutting returned to Concord sometime ago and on Jan. 29 she received a letter from the Sandown parties, stating that the child was with them and enjoying the best of health. The next letter she received stated that the child was dead.

Dr. S. J. Cogswell of Derry was then called and on being told the facts of the death as given Dr. Tappen by the caretakers of the child, he also agreed that the death was due to meningitis.

The funeral of the child was held in Concord today.

RYE

Rye, Feb. 13—Rev. Dr. L. E. Follansbee gave an address on the "Early Life of Abraham Lincoln" at the Christian church on Sunday afternoon before an appreciative audience, consisting of members of that parish and of the community.

DENIES FLAGRANT 'DRY' VIOLATIONS INCREASE IN N. H.

Concord, Feb. 13.—Conditions in New Hampshire are improving and every effort will be made to keep them going in that direction, stated Rev. Jonathan S. Lewis, federal prohibition director for this state, when seen by a representative of the newspaper Sunday afternoon, relative to the statement appearing Sunday under a Haverhill, Mass., date line that "the prohibition law is utterly impossible of enforcement as far as New Hampshire is concerned, and flagrant violations of its letter and spirit, on the part of men in all classes of society, are growing more numerous every day."

The Haverhill despatch announced the resignation of George J. Chrisite, as an enforcement officer in this state, which report was confirmed by Mr. Lewis when seen Sunday.

St. John's Church

An able and impressive sermon was given Sunday morning by Rev. Lucius Waterman D. D., of Tilton on the subject of the Upward Calling before a large congregation. The text was Philippians 3:14, "I press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Jesus Christ."

He told of the rules given by Our Lord for prayer, almsgiving and fasting that we should give much to God and others, and not give too much to ourselves. The advance from slackness into diligence, and selfishness into usefulness were considered. We should each set a high standard for ourselves and strive to attain the highest ideals. The evening discourse related to the value and privilege of service.

Dr. Waterman at both morning and evening services pleaded for generosity in contributions to the funds being raised for starving Russia.

The Woman's Guild will meet on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Miss Nellie P. Walker, 72 Islington St.

One of the most enthusiastic reports of the missionary centennial celebrations came from St. John's church, Christiansted, St. Croix in the Virgin Islands. Here they distributed literature, held discussion groups and mass meetings. At Thanksgiving a pageant was presented to a large audience who were impressed by the beauty and mystery of the play, carefully prepared and reverently given.

Eight new chapters of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew were organized in the country in January, and five junior chapters.

Her Druggist Recommended It

And All the Family Used It

MRS. A. H. SHOYAN is a much respected resident of West Orange, Massachusetts. After taking a number of medicines prescribed by physicians and otherwise learned of, without gaining desired results, she took her druggist's advice. But let her tell her own story.

"I was in a generally run-down condition, weak and always tired. My food did not seem to nourish me and I did not enjoy it. It seemed to me that all the organs were out of sorts. The doctor's medicines and others that I had taken did me no good. I was in Mr. Jackson's drug store and telling him of my troubles. He asked me to try a bottle of Sanalt and he said if it did not help me he would cheerfully refund my money.

"I took the first bottle and it made me feel so much better that I took two more. It made me stronger in every way. I was so pleased that I bought a bottle for my two children, and soon found a great difference in their actions. Now my husband is taking Sanalt and is already being benefited as it has had a wonderfully helpful effect upon his stomach. So you see Sanalt has done good for the whole family. We were generally out of sorts, as entire families often get, feverish, somewhat constipated and restless, and it seems as if Sanalt just started us going in the right

NORTH HAMPTON

North Hampton, Feb. 13—A gathering in honor of Miss Esther Merrick and Mr. Cyrus Clark took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Taylor on Pine street Saturday evening, it being the anniversary of the birthdays of Miss Merrick and Mr. Clark. Two handsomely frosted birthday cakes graced the table. Dancing and cards were on the program. Those present included: Mrs. Robert Billings, Kittery Point; Mr. Waldo Hilliard, of Kingston, N. H.; Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Billings, North Hampton; Miss Jessie Billings, Mrs. Edith Perkins, Marvin Perkins, Misses Louise, Evelyn and Earl Philbrick, Miss Grace Coleman, Harry Lane, Frank Taylor, all of North Hampton. It was an occasion to be pleasantly remembered by the gathering present.

MISS KNOX WILL SPEAK ON WORK OF CHILD'S AID AND PROTECTIVE SO.

On Tuesday afternoon, February 14, at 3:45 p. m., Miss Sarah T. Knox, General Secretary of the New Hampshire Children's Aid and Protective Society, will speak about the work of her society in the Probate Court room, County Court House, State street.

Miss Knox has been for several years connected with the work of the Children's Aid Society. This society covers the whole state and considers problems in which children are involved, particularly those in which it is necessary to take the children away from the home either temporarily or permanently. Though the society is only a few years old, hundreds of children come under its care every year. In rural districts it is oftentimes the only society which offers protection to helpless children.

There will be no collection taken at this meeting and no appeal for funds.

This meeting has been arranged by the Children's Committee of the Family Welfare Association, which extends a cordial invitation to attend to all who are interested in work for children.

From Messenger to General.

General Pellegrin, who has just been appointed to the command of the thirteenth division of French infantry, with headquarters at Laugres, is a living proof of the possibility of rising by unaided effort, which Napoleon crystallized into the saying that every French soldier carried a marshal's baton in his haversack.

General Pellegrin, whose parents were in very poor circumstances, began life as a telegraph messenger at Marseilles. He scraped and saved so as to be able to buy books, which he studied at night after his day's work for the postoffice was finished. He took his baccalaureate, got into the military college at Saint-Cyr, obtained his commission, with flying colors and passed the Ecole de Guerre, or staff college. He took part in the operations in Morocco in 1907, was badly wounded at the battle of the Marne, and afterwards returned to Morocco, where he became one of Marshal Lyautey's most valued assistants.

Umbrella Sign of Married Man.

You can tell a married man by the umbrella he checks, asserts the young capitalist who presides over the cloak room of a family restaurant. If he has two weather sticks, one a heavy cheap affair, that was purchased with the idea of being soon lost, and the other of finer material, it's a sure bet that he's married.

According to this psychologist, married folks when they start out in the rain each carries his own umbrella so they can have the minimum of inconvenience and retain a maximum of dryness. In the prenuptial times the male of the species would never hear of the woman battling the winds alone. He would carry the umbrella over her and get wet himself. But they're married now, and that makes a difference.

Automobile Quality

Is Reflected in Utility

In these days one is wont to speak of a "good" automobile as one that is faithful to its daily task.

The main requirement that any man can ask of any car is that it be ready to go when he is, and continue to run as long as he wants to keep on going.

The conscientious dealer fits himself to assure the daily utility of the car he sells, for he knows that he alone can assume that responsibility.

Whenever you see a Buick that came from us, it's on the job.

WILL SHOOT THOSE REFUSING TO HALT.

Schenectady, N. Y., Feb. 13.—Police Sunday night were ordered to shoot in case any suspicious appearing person failed to stop when challenged in the river front district, where there have been seven fires of unknown origin since Friday night. All police detectives were stationed in the district.

The seventh fire occurred Sunday in a junk shop where a fire occurred Saturday night. Firemen, however, were positive that the second fire could not have been caused by any smouldering embers.

There were four fires Friday night, two Saturday night and one Sunday, with an estimated total damage of $100,000. The buildings were storehouses, a broom factory and the junk shop.

The police said they had received reports of a man whose actions were suspicious, having been seen in the vicinity.

K. OF C. GETS 3144 IN ONE INITIATION

Rochester, N. Y., Feb. 13.—What was said to be the largest single initiation in the history of the Knights of Columbus in the United States was conducted here Sunday by Dr. James G. Coyle of New York city, state supreme deputy grand knight of the order. In one initiation 3144 new members of Rochester council were obligated, more than doubling the council's membership and making it the largest in the United States except that in Detroit. The new members were gained in a recent two weeks' drive preparatory to the erection of a new building.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

At 5 p. m. the men from the several churches will meet in the gymnasium for an hour of Indoor Baseball and Volley Ball. Those being the two games which were enjoyed so much at the social to new members last Thursday night. Every man in Portsmouth is invited to join this group, and enjoy the games. This is what sends the blood coursing through the body, and renews the spirit of youth. A business man cannot think of his troubles, while he is in the gymnasium with this group of men, playing these games.

At 6 p. m. will be held the regular business mens' gymnasium class. A great deal of interest is manifested in this class. The first fifteen minute period is given over to "setting up" exercise, then the group competitive game followed with a hot shower and a brisk rub down, and the man feels like a boy again.

At 6.15 will be held the regular Senior Bible Class and supper with Mr. Slayton as teacher. The life of Roosevelt will be studied. All young men are invited.

At 8.15 regular Senior Gymnasium class and group and competitive games followed with basket ball playing. The seven classes have taken on new life as a direct result of the "Extension Week" program. This young men's group has developed keen interest in the work, and close competition in the several games. The class are getting ready for an "Exhibition Night" when their friends will enjoy the program.

PASTOR OBSERVES 75TH BIRTH ANNIVERSARY

Exeter, Feb. 13—Rev. Dr. Samuel H. Dana, pastor emeritus of the Phillips church, Saturday observed his 75th birthday. Mr. Dana was born in Portland, Me., Feb. 11, 1847 and studied at Phillips Andover Academy from which he was graduated in 1864, and from Yale in 1869. He later studied at the Andover Theological school, from which he was graduated in 1872.

His first pastorate was at Newton Highlands where he remained five years, then spent two years in travel abroad. Later he lived in Stamford and New Haven, Ct., for two years without settled pastorates. His next call was at Quincy, Ill., which pastorate he held for twenty years. In that city he was head of the organized charities and was prominent in all religious and educational work.

In 1903 he accepted a call to become the pastor of the Phillips church of Exeter, which a few years ago was consolidated with the First Congregational church, Dr. Dana then retiring. He is prominent in charity work and is active in all public callings, being the present clerk of the board of trustees of Phillips Exeter Academy.

DENBY WARNS MIDDIES AGAINST USE OF ALCOHOL

Annapolis, Feb. 11—Secretary of the Navy Denby who was a guest overnight of Rear Admiral Wilson, superintendent of the Naval Academy, in an address this evening to the midshipmen warned them against alcoholism.

The secretary touched seriously on the subject of excessive drinking in the course of his remarks, the general theme of which was "leadership."

The middies hoped he might tell them something concerning arrangements for their graduation in June, in view of rumors to the effect that only a portion of the class may get commissions in the service. "I wish I could tell you something on this subject" said Secretary Denby, but he added that he knew nothing more about it than they did. He pointed out, however, that if all did not get their commissions, consolation lay in the fact that when they leave the academy they will have been provided with a first class education and will be well equipped to start out in life.

SAYS ENFORCEMENT OF VOLSTEAD ACT IS A FARCE

Haverhill, Feb. 12—George J. Christie who has served as a prohibition enforcement agent since the Volstead act went into effect, today returned to his home here, having resigned from the New Hampshire staff. Mr Christie first served in Maine for fourteen months and since then has been connected with the New Hampshire bureau.

"The enforcement of the Volstead law has been, and is a farce," said Mr. Christie today. "The illegal liquor traffic has grown in leaps and bounds and the enforcement officers are just simply overwhelmed. It cannot be stopped. The most prominent men, even men in public life are engaged in rum running.

"We were told two weeks ago that Massachusetts men on the staff were to be discharged and that only New Hampshire men would be employed to enforce the Volstead law in the Granite State. There were only three of us and we are all getting through.

"It is the biggest farce ever perpetrated on the public and the illegal liquor traffic has grown so enormously that attempts to enforce the law are futile. Why the prohibition forces are now more impotent than they were when the Volstead act first went into effect."

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive color. 15c and 30c.

CHILDREN'S FRIEND DIES AT CONCORD

Nashua, N. H., Feb. 13.—Word was received here of the death Sunday at the State Hospital at Concord of Rev. George W. Buzzell of this city. He had been there because of failing health for about six weeks. For more than 30 years he was the leading charity worker in Nashua and went all over the State in the interests of neglected children.

For many years he was superintendent of the Good Will Institute in this city, the founder of the Golden Rule Farm for Neglected Children in Franklin and at the head of many charitable movements.

Every summer for years he conducted beach trips for the poor children of the city and also had charge of the Thanksgiving dinners for them.

NEWS FROM THE ATLANTIC HEIGHTS

At the Sunday evening services in Community Hall last night the Atlantic Heights orchestra rendered two selections and Mr. Sprague rendered a solo. The choir rendered an anthem and community singing was enjoyed. The Rev. R. C. Stabl gave a short interesting talk and the services were greatly enjoyed.

The Welfare Club will hold its regular meeting tonight at 6.45 p. m. in Assembly Hall, and a rehearsal of the full cast of the Operetta will follow in Community Hall.

Tuesday evening there will be a meeting of the newly organized Ladies Auxiliary to the Welfare Club at 7.30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Hopley, 262 Concord Way. The Entertainment Committee have arranged that it shall be a valentine party in conjunction with the meeting. Many surprises have been arranged and all ladies of Atlantic Heights who are interested are invited to attend. A large number of new members will no doubt be enrolled and a pleasant evening will no doubt be enjoyed.

The Ladies' Aid will serve a Meat Pie supper at 6 p. m. in Community Hall on Wednesday evening. Following the supper the Welfare Club will provide entertainment. The suppers given by the Ladies' Aid in the past have been very popular and no doubt this one will be as popular if not more so than any they have given before.

You Are Interested

Yes, you're interested when we tell you that Lumber and Building Materials have dropped over 40 per cent since Sept. 1, 1920.

Conditions were at their worst then but are better now than at any time since the war began. At present prices are fairly stable and shipments prompt. However, stocks at the mills are very low and with anything like a return to normal buying prices are sure to advance. Some have already.

Our advice to you, if you want to save money, is to place your orders NOW and start building early Next Spring. Let us help you plan your work. Our prices are RIGHT and our Service is the BEST.

When the Fire in the Stove is Low or Banked your Hot Water Supply in the Boiler Is Limited.

WHY—

There is not direct heat enough to keep so many gallons hot. If certain amounts are drawn as needed the amount of cold water replacing it cannot be brought up to the needed degree—so in time you have no real hot water.

How many times have you faced this situation?

Have a THERMOFLASH connected to your gas heater and you can carry a banked fire all day. Result—a boiler full of steaming hot water any time, any amount.

The Conference Already Bearing Fruit.

This country is to get very immediate results from the decision to limit armaments, and it is to be expected that the other countries entering into the agreement at the Washington conference will act with equal promptitude.

Even before the ratification of the treaty Secretary of the Navy Denby has, under direction of President Harding, ordered construction work on fourteen capital ships suspended. This step has been taken in anticipation of ratification, about which there is no doubt in any quarter. Only three of the vessels on which work has been suspended will ever be completed as warships. The others will be scrapped or converted into merchant ships under the provisions of the treaty. It is said that the operations halted have been costing the government $500,000 a month, so it will be seen that a substantial saving has already been begun. Following the ratification of the treaty contracts for new ships will be canceled, and this will mean further saving.

The one capital ship exempted under the order of suspension was the Colorado, which is 90 per cent complete. Two battle cruisers are to be completed as airplane carriers. This is the first step toward carrying out the limitation treaty, and already a special technical board of officers is working out details of the scrapping process.

All this is welcome news to the people, who hoped much from the Conference, and whose hopes are not to be disappointed. As before stated, the other nations concerned will doubtless act as promptly, with the result that armaments will be shrinking instead of expanding. This is cause for rejoicing and proof positive that the world is headed in the direction of peace and good fellowship. This is what the Conference was called for and its success is as welcome to a suffering world as is sunshine after a driving storm.

Secretary Hughes, whose large and influential part in the Conference is known to all men, believes that the work of the Conference cannot fail to have effect in countries that were not represented. "Peoples are not disposed," he said, "at this time to see moneys raised by taxation spent unnecessarily on instruments of destruction. I take it that the Powers not represented in this Conference will voluntarily largely limit their expenditures for military and naval purposes because of the public opinion aroused throughout the world through the work that this Conference has done. . . . I think there is more hope in the world today because of what was achieved."

And so does everybody else. The world is full of hope because of the achievements of this history-making Conference. There is a feeling that great wars between leading nations are a thing of the past and that from this time on peace is to prevail. There may, and probably will be, ripples here and there now and then among the smaller and less developed nations, but that the world will ever again be rocked as it was by the recent great conflict is altogether improbable. There is every evidence that the nations have discovered a better way for adjusting such differences as may arise, and have entered upon that way in sincerity and good faith.

All of the nations have heavy loads to bear as a result of the World War, but by this memorable Conference they have been placed in a position where they can devote their attention to binding up the wounds and working out their own salvation in their own way.

Federal Judge Howe of Vermont has been showing New York how to dispose of liquor cases without being a lifetime about it. In one case he had a man on the way to jail two hours after he was caught passing liquor over a bar. Apparently there is some relationship between Vermont and Jersey justice.

A holdup man in Chicago has been "detrousering" his victims, perhaps for the purpose of seeing that nothing in the pockets was overlooked. But there are a lot of people who have come very near being detrousered and decoated, too, in the last few years without coming into contact with bandits.

The winter carnival at Dartmouth was the real thing and showed what the faculty and students of that institution can do when they set themselves about it. The affair was well planned and conducted and afforded enjoyable entertainment to large numbers of people from far and near.

Why all this talk about the want of markets for farm produce? A Washington dispatch says exports last year exceeded those of 1920 by 4,000,000 tons. The money returns were not so large, owing to lower prices, but the stuff was shipped.

There is a call in Massachusetts for a law providing that number plates on automobiles shall be illuminated at night. That might be a good thing, but it is already suggested that it will never do to permit drivers to "illuminate."

Two young colored men in New York have been sentenced to from five to ten years in state prison for stealing a small quantity of bread. And yet there is complaint that the laws are not being enforced with sufficient rigor.

There may be legitimate use for moonshine whiskey, after all. It is claimed to have been accidently discovered that it will remove ink stains from hard wood floors.

BANDITS GET AWAY WITH $100,000 IN JEWELS

(By Associated Press)

St. Louis, Feb. 13.—Jewelry estimated by the hotel managers to be valued at $100,000 was obtained by bandits who early today looted the safety deposit boxes at the Washington Hotel. The night clerk was forced to open the safe containing the jewels which were the property of the guests at the Hotel.

WARNS AMERICANS AGAINST D'VALERA

(By Associated Press)

London, Feb. 13.—Michael Collins, head of the Irish Provisional government, has sent cablegrams warning the American Association for Recognition of the Irish Republic not to assist or countenance a coup d'etat which he declared was being planned against the Irish provisional government, says a Dublin dispatch today to the London Press.

WOMAN IS NOMINATED AS MAYOR OF SACO

Saco, Me., Feb. 11—At one of the largest republican caucuses ever held in this city, Dr. Laura Black Stickney was nominated for mayor tonight. She is the first woman to be nominated to the office of mayor in this state and one of the first in New England.

The meeting was held in City hall. The balcony was well filled with women. Mrs. Stickney was the only republican candidate for the office.

Judge Franklin R. Chesley of the city court made the nomination speech and Ex-Alderman A. F. Houston seconded the nomination. Dr. Stickney in a short speech of acceptance, declared that the honor was entirely unsolicited on her part. She said that while it is an innovation for a woman to be mayor of the city, she saw no reason why a woman should not hold the office, and declared that if elected, she will endeavor to giv the city an economical business like administration.

Dr. Stickney has been a practicing physician in Saco for seventeen years. She has taken an active interest in politics for many years and is a member of the republican state and city committees.

The election will be held Monday, March 6. The democratic nominee is ex-Alderman Walter J. Gilpatrick.

THISTLEMORE IN DRY DOCK

Quincy, Feb. 13.—The British freight steamship Thistlemore, which has spent a good part of the past week on the Peaked Hill Bars off Highland Light, Cape Cod, and which was floated shortly before midnight Saturday came to the floating dry dock at the Fore River yards late Sunday afternoon.

The Thistlemore comes to Fore River for a general inspection as to the damage sustained below the water line from her several days' resting on the sands of Peaked Hill Bars. Owing to trouble in her engine room she had to be towed all the way up the coast by tugs. She came up Fore River in charge of the Confidence, Mars, Neptune and Taurus. She passed through the draw of the Washington-St Bridge at Quincy Point at 5.15 and was taken to the big floating dock of the Fore River Company.

The Thistlemore was riding on a fairly even keel with a very slight list to port. It was said she was leaking slightly because of strained underwater plates. However, she was not taking enough water to make the trip at all hazardous, but the crew was happy when she was secured in the dock. The trip up the coast from Cape Cod was made in smooth water.

MASONIC HOME NOTES

Mr. Horace E. Osgood, 33, Commander-in-Chief of the New Hampshire Consistory, 32d degree, was the speaker at the regular Sunday night service at the home last evening and his talk on Scottish Rite Masonry, was received with great interest, and in the course of his remarks outlined in a very beautiful manner, the principal, the purpose, benefits and desired results of the teachings of Scottish Rite Masonry and in a very clear manner explained and drew the line between Masonic teachings and religion and gave one 00 his conclusions that Masonry is not a religion and should not be considered as such by the fraternity. Mr. Osgood's home is in Nashua, N. H., and he is the head of the Osgood Construction Company of that city and is also one of the police commissioners of that city. While in this city over the week-end Mr. and Mrs. Osgood visited some of the historical buildings of our city, including the historical St. John's church which greatly interests all visiting Masons because of the close relationship of this church with early Masonry in Portsmouth. Mr. and Mrs. Osgood returned to Nashua Monday morning, being called back owing to the urgency of the mill workers' strike which calls for extra precautions on the part of the police department to control the situation and prevent rioting.

The supper committee consisting of J. Wallace Lear, Stacy B. Hall, Chas Richardson, Frank W. Knight, and John Warburton served the lobster chowder in a very tasty and satisfactory manner. Although the number present far exceeded the number expected, they were properly cared for and their efforts were appreciated.

The Masonic orchestra gave a very enjoyable concert before and after the service.

Gustave Peyser, 33, is confined to his home on Rockland street by illness and the whole Masonic fraternity and his many friends hope for a speedy recovery.

The Masonic Dramatic club voted this week to hold another of their dancing parties at Freeman's hall on Feb. 22, Washington's Birthday. Marden's orchestra has been engaged and on this party the members of the fraternity and all their friends are invited to attend. As this will be a holiday night it is expected that a large crowd will be in attendance.

DANCING PARTY AT ROCKINGHAM

Lieut. and Mrs. Gerald A. Shattuck Entertain Guests.

Lieutenant and Mrs. Gerald A. Shattuck entertained at an informal dancing party on Saturday evening at the Hotel Rockingham. The guests, entering the ball room through an enormous red heart, found the room beautifully decorated with hearts, cupids and numerous other valentine novelties. The numerous favor dances, snow ball battle, and spot light in the form of a red heart, were features of the evening. During intermission a buffet luncheon was served by the Hotel Rockingham. The guests, eighty in number, included the navy officers and wives from the local yard and Miss Marjorie Whittedge, Clearwater, Fla., Miss Olive Mayo, Detroit, Michigan, Major and Mrs. Eugene B. Walker, Fort McKinley, Maine, Mr. Howard Gleason, Gleasondale, Mass., Lieutenant Commander Lewis, navy yard, Boston, Mass., Messrs. Frank Cook, Charles Heuser, William Manchester, and Robert Boger, Boston, Mass. Music was furnished by Marden's Orchestra.

CITY GOVERNMENT REVOLTS AGAINST THE STATE

(By Associated Press)

Mexico City, Feb. 13.—The municipal president of Puitzcuaro, in the city of Michoacan, with thirty followers, yesterday revolted against the state government. No casualties have been reported although the revolutionists began their movements with cries of "death of Mugica." Francisco J. Mugica, governor of Michoacan, seized the office in July, 1920, prior to the installation of the Obregon government in Mexico City.

CURFEW ORDERED FOR BELFAST

(By Associated Press)

Belfast, Feb. 13.—Beginning tonight the curfew extending from 9 o'clock in the evening until 5 o'clock in the morning will be resumed. Up to 3 o'clock this afternoon a total of eight had been killed since Saturday.

FIRE DOES $3000 DAMAGE TO CHURCH

East Rochester, N. H., Feb. 12 — The Bethany Methodist church on Main street was gutted by fire this morning, as the result of a defective chimney, causing a loss of $3000. That the damage was not much larger, was due to the fact that there was a large amount of snow on the building.

The fire started in a room used as a classroom just off the auditorium. A fire had been started early in the morning by the janitor, James Bell, in the stove. He left it apparently in a safe condition and went to his home to prepare for the church service.

Shortly before 9 o'clock flames were discovered breaking through the roof by A. L. Davis a local business man.

NAVY YARD NOTES

Tells Harding It Is Inhuman

Discharge without warning of thousands of navy yard workers whose services were no longer required because of the armament limitation agreement was characterized as "extremely inconsiderate, heartless and inhuman" and an act of "broken faith" in a letter sent by William H. Johnston, president of the International Association of Machinists, to President Harding.

The Administration was asked to provide work for the men by taking all forms of armament manufacture out of the hands of private contractors and plants, by speeding up plans for the construction of naval auxiliary craft allowed under the Disarmament Treaty and by arranging for the manufacture of ships for the civil government in the navy yard plants.

Will Open Windows for Half Hour

Beginning today and following the order of the commandant and senior medical officer the windows and doors of the several yard shops will be opened for 30 minutes each day at the close of work as a measure against the germs of flu, colds, etc., which might effect employes. A man from each shop will be detailed for this duty which the employes regard as a timely move in the interest of their health.

Part of the Schedule

The following is the bowling schedule for the first roundd in the yard civilian league which opens with the first matches on Thursday night.

Monday, Feb. 20th, Team 1 vs 2; 5 vs 4.

Thursday, Feb. 23d, Team 5 vs 6; 1 vs 3.

Monday, Feb. 27th, Team 2 vs 3; 1 vs 5.

Thursday, March 2nd, Team 6 vs 1; 3 vs 6.

Monday, March 6th, Team 2 vs 4; 3 vs 5.

Thursday, March 9th, Team 1 vs 4; 3 vs 6.

Monday, March 13th, Team 1 vs 6; 2 vs 5.

New Chapel

A new chapel will shortly be opened at the local yard.

Yankton Arrives

The former gunboat Yankton arrived at the yard on Saturday to tow the yacht Galatea to New York after some minor work is done on the ship.

Coal Coming

A cargo of coal from Lambert's Point is expected at the yard shortly via water.

Mohave Arrives

The tug Mohave arrived at the local yard this noon to take in tow a barge of ice loaded at the local yard for the Charlestown yard.

Passed on Death Claim

The directors of the Navy Yard Mutual Aid Association met this forenoon and passed on one death claim.

Four C. B. M's Shifted

The following chief boatswain's mates from the local yard have been ordered to report to the destroyer repair group at Charlestown yard: Horace H. Davis, Andrew Delcary, Edward McCausland and William Wurm. Davis has been acting master-at-arms on the Southery. Delcary and McCausland did duty on the yard ferry No. 1048 and Wurm was attached to the yard tug Penacook.

SOUTH ELIOT

South Eliot, Me., Feb. 13—There will be a Valentine social at Epworth hall on Tuesday evening at 7.30 o'clock under the auspices of the Epworth League. A cordial invitation is extended to all. Games will be played and refreshments served. The usual Wednesday evening prayer meeting will be held at 7 o'clock preced by a short meeting of the unit leaders. The topic for discussion will be the phase "Thus saith the Lord," or words having the same sentiment found in Bible verses.

The Ladies' Aid will meet at the home of Mrs. Henry Livermore on Thursday afternoon.

There will be a rehearsal of the pageant which will be given in March, at the parsonage on Friday evening, preceding the choir rehearsal.

?I WONDER?

If the K. of C. and Elks will have hat rubber contest in the inter-club series?

? ? ? ? ?

If the Boston and Maine men who confiscated the canned hooch will be honored guests at the next bootleggers convention, over the New Hampshire line?

LANDRY ROLLS BIG STRING

The bowling fraternity was given something to talk about on Saturday afternoon when Oiver Landry rolled a single string of 163 at the Arcade alleys. Landry has been a consistent bowler throughout the present season and his exceptional string was the highest bowled in the city for the past five years, excelling the reported string by Warren Hackett of 159, made at the West End alleys recently by four pins. The feat of Landry was all the more remarkable as new pins were placed in the alleys a few hours before the string by boxes was as follows:

18 9 10 18 9 20 20 19 17 15—161.

The above sets a mark which will give the local stars something to shoot at during the remainder of the season. The record for a single string in this city is 172, made some years ago at the Arcade alleys by Archie Walsh.

Harris Hosford of Chardon, O., tapped 1000 maple trees on his place last week. Ten gallons of syrup were made from 12 barrels of sap before the freeze. He has the largest "sugar bush" in town and, since the dairy business has been poor of late, Hosford with an early start, is going to try and bring some money into Geauga County with syrup and sugar.

Miss Yvonne Raynes, who is attending the New England Conservatory of Music, is slowly recovering from an operation performed last week at the Joy Briney Hospital, Newbury Street, Boston.

Vatican could rule spiritually only, would be welcomed.

Seated on the papal chair wearing a great white cape embroidered with gold and the precious mitre, the newly elected Pope blessed the worshippers who lined the corridors of the Vatican and the entrances of St. Peters. Surrounding the chair with drawn swords were Swiss Guards commanded by Col. Hirschbuhl. Officers of the Noble Guard and officials of the pontifical court with two huge Swiss Guards closed the procession.

The crush inside the basilica was terrific, many women fainting; these were carried to the emergency hospital, installed in a small chapel to the rear of St. Peters.

PEOPLE'S OPINIONS

Portsmouth, Feb. 13, 1922.

Editor Herald:—It has come to my notice that there has been a little misunderstanding and criticism regarding the case that I collected funds for.

The facts are that we never made application to the Portsmouth hospital at all, realizing that it was a serious surgical operation and case for a specialist.

Trusting that this explanation will clear up any misunderstanding, I remain,

Sincerely yours,
FREDERICK FARRAR, Captain.

Talks on Old Frigate

Kittery, Me., Feb. 13, 1922

Editor Herald:—

Last Friday's, Feb. 10, 1922, edition, subject Commemoration of the fight between the U. S. Frigate Constellation and the Insurgent French ship.

In the year 1888 the Constellation came to this port; the Commandant of the navy yard came to the rigging loft (his name Commodore Johnson) and interviewed the Master Rigger Wm. F. Pinkham and said the Constellation is in the lower harbor, I want it said that the ship sailed up to the yard. Can it be done? Mr. Pinkham said, yes Sir; if you desire it, I can do it. Go and do it; here are your orders to the Captain of the ship. Take the Commandant's steam barge to put you on board. He went and gave the Captain his letter of introduction. He said the ship is under your charge. What do you want done? Make all plain sail, brace your head yards aback, haul jib and staysail sheets to windward, heave up the anchor as soon as sail is made. This was done and the ship swung head up river the head yards were braced so as to fill the sails, the jibs were lowered and the ship came up under sail off Pull and be Damned Point; all sail was taken off the ship. She had way enough to bring her alongside the yard at the corner of Bldg. 83. A boat ran a line to the dock from the port quarter and another from the port bow to iron buoy in the river and they had her in the control of these lines. The wind was south by s2 west, the tide was at its last hour of ebb and here lies the secret of the trick. She came alongside the old store wharf. The Commodore grasped Mr. Pinkham by the hand and said, that was splendid. You shall never be forgotten.

From the Diary of Wm. F. Pinkham.

CONDUCTS SERVICE AT COUNTY JAIL

A religious service was held at the Rockingham County Jail Sunday morning by Captain Frederick Farrar of the Salvation Army, who gave an address. Hymns were sung by members of the Salvation Army, the prisoners joining heartily in the singing. A vocal duet was rendered by the Misses Farrar and Frank Farrar and Wilbur Noel gave cornet selections. Mrs. Shaw, wife of Deputy Sheriff Shaw, presided at the organ.

The prisoners took much interest in the service and several asked to be provided with testaments and two were taken over to the jail this morning by Captain Farrar.

Frank R. Copp of Farmington, N. H., who was very prominent during the war in domestic Liberty Loan drives and the like, has preserved 27 souvenirs in the form of badges and buttons representing the different activities he participated in from 1916 through 1919.

H. S. OUTPLAYS TUFTS FRESHMEN

Make It Fourteen Straight Wins--Game the Fastest of the Season

A wildly enthusiastic crowd saw the High school basketball team defeat the Tufts Freshmen at Freeman's hall on Saturday night in a whirl of a game. The visitors, heavier and older than the locals, and with the reputation of being a fast team, having won from Harvard Freshmen, looked very formidable when they came on the floor, but at the end of the first period they were trailing by fourteen points and had been outplayed in all branches of the game.

The Tufts team is a good bunch of basketball players, but against the fast working locals they were not dangerous after the first half, although they never let up. The local team never worked to better advantage than in the first half and they way they went after that college team was a sight to see. Every man was right on his toes and once they got the ball, and they had it the greater part of the time, it was brought down the floor by pretty short passes until it was caged.

The pace was so fast that it began to tell on the Freshmen, but Coach Wiggin's boys kept up the pace until the whistle blew for the end of the first half. They came back at the end of the rest period, but did not show the same speed until the last of the game when they once more got under way. In every department of the game they outplayed the visitors, their floor work, passing and shooting showed a superior knowledge of the game. There was no long passing and long shots for the basket, but short passing until a man was in position to take chance at the basket. To be sure there was still evidence of weakness on short throws under the basket, either through anxiety or lack of practice, they failed to cage as many goals as might be expected.

The first half was as fast a game as is ever been seen on the local court, and some of the plays were as well executed as any professional team has ever showed here. Repeatedly the locals brought the crowd to its feet by taking the ball down the floor through the whole of the Tufts team and caging the goal. Every man was playing at top speed and they were in every play, at times the whole five men figuring in a play before they could get their goal. Against such playing, Tufts was clearly bewildered at times, but they are a rugged lot and fought hard.

Tufts scored first on a foul and then threw a basket, giving them the lead for the first and only time, but here the locals began to work and in a short time they were points ahead and still going.

Eastman played his best game of the year; his floor work was lightning fast, he was shooting better and some of his baskets were exceptionally fine. He shot eight goals. Cotton was another big factor and his floor work and passing was just as fast as Eastman, and the way they worked together was a pleasure to see. Cotton shot six baskets and two trials from fouls. Badger also played a fine game and he was a little more fortunate with his baskets, although he is still getting some bad breaks. He worked hard and his defense work was especially noticeable. O'Leary, while always good, was especially noticeable Saturday evening. He was everywhere and his defense work was a revelation for repeatedly he was on top of the opposing players and had the ball blocked before they could move out of their tracks. He did some fine floor work in carrying and passing the ball and his only goal was a "Pippin." He took the ball at the end of the hall and worked through a broken field on a fast dribble the entire length of the hall and then made a pretty shot for the basket. It was one of the noticeable plays of the game. Johnny Pike was also much in evidence and he put up a nice game. Pike was pounds lighter than any man on the floor, but this did not prevent him getting into every play and working like a Trojan.

Wilson was the particular star of the visitors and he is a real basketball player. He is extremely strong on the defense and he handles the ball well at all times. Bachelder, a colored boy, who resembles "Buckey" Lew, played a fast game for the visitors, scoring four baskets. eH is shifty when handling the ball and shoots well.

The locals now have won fourteen games and two games for this week, Rochester on Wednesday at Rochester and Dummer Academy here next Saturday. The latter promises to be a game well worth while, for Dummer has recently trimmed the Allen Military school and St. John's Prep, a team which has been picked as one of the best in New England.

Between the periods on Saturday night the second team defeated the Y. M. C. A. Comets 26 to 14 in a good game. "Bo" Garland refereed the preliminary game and Cragen handled the big game with his usual skill.

The summary:

P. H. S. (35)	Tufts Freshmen (24)

LATER CONTRIBUTIONS

The following donations were received Saturday by Captain Farrar in response to the appeal for help for a worthy cause:

Coast Guard station No. 13 and friends of East Rye	$11.65
Lafayette School	10.00
Advent Missionary Society	5.00
Total	$26.65

As Captain Farrar explained to the donors that enough had probably been raised for this case, he was given the money to use in any worthy way for relief that he saw fit, except that from the Lafayette school which will be kept to use for the needy woman or her family later if necessary.

PORTSMOUTH GIRL TO BE EMPRESS OF CHINA

Much interest is being shown by the friends of a Portsmouth girl who, dispatches state, will become the Empress of China. Emperor Ming has already had a number of wives, as is the custom of Chinese Royalty, but he has selected a Portsmouth girl to be his newest bride. It is said that the girl is already engaged to a prominent Chinese military officer, and if this becomes known to the Emperor, it will mean a torturous death for him, this being the custom in China.

The wedding will take place at Freeman's hall Friday evening, Feb. 24th when the tuneful operetta "Little Almond Eyes" will make its appearance under the auspices of Alpha Council No. 83, Royal Arcanum. Dancing will follow the production.

The entertainment under the auspices of the W. C. T. U. at the Court Street church this evening should bring out a good sized audience. Dr. L. E. Folkansbee will give an address on the theme "Did He Hit the Squirrel?" The program will include an organ recital and vocal duets. All are cordially invited.

Coughs and Colds That "Hang On"

To Get Rid of Them Take Father John's Medicine

If you cannot get rid of your cough or cold—if in spite of what you are doing for it, it still hangs on, you are in very real danger.

The longer you have this irritating cough or long-standing cold, the more your resisting power is lowered and the greater need for a wholesome food tonic.

Take Father John's Medicine. It soothes and heals the breathing passages, drives off impurities and actually rebuilds wasted flesh and strength.

DON'T EXPERIMENT WITH COLDS It is dangerous. Take Father John's Medicine, which has had 65 years' success.

HERALD HEARS

That it looked like the old days in municipal court quarters today.

That the Dover chief of police gets an increase of $100, making his salary $1850, and the assistant an increase of $50, making his pay $1650.

That the patrolmen will get two days off each month from October until May, instead of one.

That a move is on in Kansas City to legislate jazz out of existence. What next?

That another measure has been introduced in congress to prohibit newspapers going through the mails, that print the results of horse racing.

That with all the laws we are confronted with now, the man who wrote "The Star Spangled Banner" would open his eyes if he were alive today.

That by the time the reformers and the men in congress get through calling for laws that cause so much unrest among the people, there will be somebody besides democrats and republicans going to congress.

That the next blow will likely hit the women and eliminate high heels, corsets and chewing gum.

That the Nashua Telegraph says the many friends will be glad to note that the jury found for the defendant in the alienation suit brought against Thos. Mott Osborne of prison reform fame. It would have been a pity indeed if Mr. Osborne's great work for more modern methods of criminal reform had suffered the effect of a guilty verdict in connection with this case.

That according to some of the people employed in the mills at Dover and other places they would have hard scratching to get along if they took the cut in wages and the longer hours.

That some of them say they would have a pay envelope with $12 for a week of labor.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Louise French

The death of Mrs. Louise French, widow of George B. French, occurred early Sunday morning at the home of her son, George E. French, 425 Middle street, at the age of 87 years.

Mrs. French was a lady of gentle and gracious personality and was held in the highest esteem by all. She has been in poor health for some time.

She is survived by one son, George E. French, and four grandchildren, Justin D., George Bradbury French, Mrs. Frank J. Massey and Miss Margaret E. French; also one great grandson.

The funeral services will be held from her late home, 425 Middle street, on Tuesday at two o'clock. Friends invited.

Mrs. Katherine L. Shaw

Mrs. Katherine L. Shaw, wife of Louis Shaw, passed away Sunday evening at the home of her son, John Shaw, 60 Summer street, after a week's illness. Her age was 72 years.

She is survived by her husband, two daughters, Mrs. Florence S. Shaw, of this city, and Mrs. Mary DeCoste of Charlestown, Mass.; two sons, John C. Shaw of this city and Perry L. Shaw of Beverly, Mass. The deceased was born in Greenland and was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Keefe.

Mrs. Dorothy Atwater

The death of Mrs. Dorothy (Cuskly) Atwater, wife of Donald V. Atwater, formerly of New Castle, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Cuskly, passed away at her home in Fort Fairfield, Me., on Sunday morning at ten o'clock. The remains will be brought here for services and interment.

GAVE ADDRESS ON ABRAHAM LINCOLN

"Abraham Lincoln" was the theme of the address by the pastor, Rev. L. E. Follansbee, D. D., at the Court Street Christian church on Sunday morning. There were present in the congregation Civil war veterans and those from other patriotic organizations and all listened with interest to the speaker who gave an eloquent address.

PERSONALS

Ernest L. Cook passed Sunday in Dover.

Mrs. Thomas McCarthy was a recent visitor in Boston.

Miss Mary Jones of Spring street is passing a week at Hookset.

William D. Spofford has moved from Hill street to Winthrop, Mass.

George K. Sanborn has received an appointment as justice of the peace.

George B. Moody has been called to Bath, Me., by the death of a relative.

Mrs. William Winn of Ash street has been seriously ill for the past ten days.

George R. Rose has left for Nottingham where he will pass several weeks.

Perley N. Storer was in Hanover, N. H. last week for the Dartmouth Winter Carnival.

Postmaster Maurice P. Wright of North Hampton was a Saturday visitor in this city.

Mark Neville of New Hampshire college passed the week end at his home in this city.

Mrs. Alice Long and daughter Gertrude of Summer street are passing a week at Hookset.

The Misses Eleanor and Elizabeth Wentworth of Boston, formerly of Greenland, passed the week end as the guests of Miss Ruth Schurman of South street.

MET LINCOLN AT RICHMOND

A pleasant and timely incident is recalled by Edwin O. Randall of Portsmouth, a well known Civil War Veteran, at this time when the anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln is being celebrated. Mr. Randall had the pleasure of shaking hands with Lincoln on April 10, 1865 and although he is now 83 years of age he vividly remembers the occasion. He states that after the city of Richmond was taken on April 3, '65, Lincoln and his aides marched through the city on April 10 and he shook hands with the soldiers along the line as he marched by. Mr. Randall was one of these, he being a member of the New Hampshire 10th Regiment, which has now not many survivors.

K. OF C. NOTES

At the last meeting of the Council the house rules were adopted and hereafter the home will be under the direction of the house committee.

The "Jim's Girl" company held a rehearsal last evening and will rehearse nearly every evening from now until the date of the show. While Jim was in France, Hutchinson Butch of Rumor, Indiana, Jim's home town, took advantage of Jim's absence and put over a shady deal that puts Jim's mother in financial difficulty and it devolves on Jim to set these matters right and confound the villanious Butch, which he proceeds to do and in which he gets considerable help from U. S. Marshall McKeon, who is at first suspected of coming to arrest Jim for obtaining illegal entrance into the United States for Yvonne. McKeon, however, turns out to be a different sort of a fellow entirely, and poses to be a great chap for the Bedford family and their friends.

Dibbs, a Grand Army veteran, writes the Rome Republican on how "Foch" should run the war, and "Windy Miller" brews "cold tea" in his cellar and sells it at the railroad station.

WEBSTER HIGHWAY OPENED

Through the efforts of the New Hampshire Highway Department, assisted by the Highway Department of the city of Manchester, the State road between Nashua and Concord has been cleared of snow, so that there is room for two vehicles to pass the entire distance of the road is in very good shape all the way from Boston to Concord.

In breaking out the road the authorities used two former war trucks now owned by the State Highway Department, and a road plow. Both trucks were equipped with chains on all wheels and the second truck carried a block of concrete weighing 3200 pounds and several men. The combination of trucks and plow opened the road very rapidly and at small cost.

POLICE COURT

Edward McGuiness who is credited with staging a hold-up on Vaughan street on Friday night in which he claims he was robbed of $70 or more, was heard in the municipal court today on the charge of embezzlement. He pleaded not guilty and told the court that he was held up and assaulted. It seems that he has changed his account of th affair since he was interviewed on Saturday by the police. He was represented by counsel today. The case was continued until Saturday next and the respondent ordered to furnish bail in the sum of $500. He was unable to get bail today.

Bessie G. Lemay who went on a shopping tour with the purse of a woman from Rye on Saturday night, will be sent to the house of correction for observation by order of the court. Bessie had spent $25 of the $31 in the purse for a ring, dress, corset covers, stockings and other wearing apparel. The articles were redeemed by those who sold them and the money turned over to the woman from Rye.

Fred Snow pleaded guilty to intoxication and paid a fine of $5 and costs $5.82.

Despite the fact that she is past 81 years of age, Mrs. Laura M. Wright of Belleville, N. J., is head of a plumbing shop. Forty years of her life were spent in practising medicine.

HARD TO CREDIT THIS STORY

If True, However, It Shows the Remarkable Subtlety of the Mind of the Oriental.

One ingenious if dishonest native of India turned his dark skill to excellent account. One of the European examiners of Calcutta university, says Lord Frederic Hamilton in his book "Days Before Yesterday," told me that there had been a great deal of trouble about the examination papers, by some means or other the native students always managed to obtain what we may term "advance" copies of the papers. My informant had accordingly devised a scheme to stop the leakage. Instead of having the papers printed in the usual fashion he called in the services of a single white printer on whom he could rely. The white printer received the papers early on the morning of the day designated for the examination and duly set them up on a hand press inside the building. He had one assistant, a coolie who was clad only in loin cloth and turban; by no possibility could he conceal any papers about his person.

In spite of these precautions, however, it soon became clear at the examination that some of the students had a previous knowledge of the questions. How had they managed it? Eventually it appeared that the coolie, taking advantage of the momentary absence of the white printer, had whipped off his loin cloth, sat down on the "form" and then replaced his solitary garment. When he was obliged to strip on going out the printing ink did not show on his dark skin, and all that he had to do was to sit down on a large sheet of white paper for the questions to be printed off on it. Then, with the aid of a mirror, the students could easily read them. The oriental mind is subtle.

CHINESE BUY OFF BRIGANDS

Bandit Chieftains, When They Get Too Powerful, Are Dealt With in Peculiar Fashion.

Custom has prescribed a conventional solution of the problem of brigandage in China. When a brigand has gone beyond the orthodox limits in the terrorization of the region in which he operates, the government sets out to "suppress" him. It does so, in the usual way, by bargaining. Troops are moved, though not too close, and negotiations are opened with the bandit leader. He offers to go the way of good citizenship in exchange for an appointment as governor of a province. The governor offers to make him a general. They compromise on his appointment as brigade commander with a station rich and ripe for the plucking. When negotiations have been satisfactorily consummated, the government troops are brought up. They launch an attack upon the bandits, fire into the air for a few minutes and then withdraw. Official proclamation is made; the bandits have been dispersed and order restored. And the former bandit chieftain finds that "squeeze" is far more profitable than robbery—and much less hazardous.

Such is the history of not a few of the outstanding notables in contemporary Chinese public life.

His Ailment Diagnosed.

"Water!" yelled the fervent orator. "Aqua, aqua!" he shouted, lapsing into Latin, his mother tongue. "Aqua, pura! The greatest gift of Nature to thirsty man! What would the ocean be without water? Answer me that? What—"

That question had never struck his audience before. They pondered in silence.

"Water!" cried the orator again. "What would Niagara falls be without water?"

Another stupendous question. His audience stirred restlessly; his arguments were too much for them.

"Of what use," screamed the speaker, "would our bathtubs be without clean, beautiful water?"

At one man the audience turned and left the hall, perhaps to consider outside the orator's brainy conundrums. But one ignorant fellow said to another:

"That man has water on the brain!"—Houston Post.

The Shapes of Eggs.

An expert recently enlightened the Zoological society of London with a mathematical discussion of the differences in the shape of eggs. A few eggs, like those of the owl and the tortoise, are spherical or nearly so; a few, like the grebe's or the cormorant's are elliptical, with symmetrical ends; the great majority, like the hen's, are ovoid, or blunter at one end than at the other.

The hen's eggs are always laid blunt end foremost. Eggs which are the most unsymmetrical are also eggs of large size relatively to the parent birds. The yolks of eggs are spherical, whatever the form of the entire egg may be. This is shown to be due to their being enclosed in a fluid, the "white," which makes the pressure everywhere on the surface of the yolk practically constant.

Safety First.

Varlet—I prithee heste, sir knight, to the rescue of a fair damsel in yonder town by a wicked ogre.

Knight—Oh, bother! This is my day off. Why don't you go and save her yourself?

Varlet—Alas is my wife, sir knight said she refuses to allow me to engage in so perilous an emprise.—Punch.

DAY OF GAYETY IN SICILY

At Festival Time the People Give Themselves Up to All Forms of Amusement.

Booths and barrows lined the streets selling fireworks and drinks, torrone made of new almonds and honey, knives and ribbons; and alternating with the merchandise and drinks were the gambling stands. There were a dozen roulette tables, silver horses whirling around over the numbered courses where you put your soldo, and bright arrows with painted feathers that stopped whirling sooner or later and left a flight tip resting on the lucky number. Crowds of people were pulling their money down, mostly little boys, it seemed, writes Stark Young in the North American Review. The rockets were firing from every direction, with reports like bombs, unbelievably loud, to appease the Sicilian liking for mere noise. Now and then firecrackers in bunches were thrown from the roofs of the churches into the little stone streets, with a rattling and detonation like a bombardment. Beside the Duomo the band from Syracuse was playing airs from the operas. Meantime the deep blue of the early night had fallen over the walls and over the country, dropping down toward the sea and rising on the other hand toward the Saracen castle above the town. A few pale stars were out, and a slender moon, almost past, was shining. The whole piazza was swept with the perfume of the jessamine that ran along the front of the house next the church, incredible sweetness in that soft, blue air. And everywhere were the voices, deep and bright.

SAFER THAN ANY STEEL VAULT

Bank of England Lowers Its Bullion Into Well at Close of Business Each Day.

In one sense the Bank of England is the safest bank in the world. Its unique protection is due to an artesian well in the bank. This well supplies the bank with its water independently of the rest of the city. It is 400 feet deep and supplies 7,000 cubic feet of water an hour.

The bullion department, which holds the ingots of precious metal, is nightly submerged in several feet of water by the action of special machinery. Anyone attempting to rob the bank, then, must be an expert swimmer and diver. In the morning the water is pumped away and the ingots are readily accessible again.

However, the water still protects the other departments of the bank. Its supply is almost unlimited, the bank knows, and its protection is practically absolute when it is used. The bank has very delicate machinery arranged so that even the lifting of a coin from a pile will release a catch which, in turn, releases a supply of water.—Detroit News.

Pithy Paragraphs.

Whatever Broadway may have been in its day, it is a thoroughfare of aliens now, and it has no day, comparatively speaking, but only the night, when the Dr. Kennicotts of the inland towns walk with their more or less restless women folk, and try to believe they have struck oil in an emotional sense, and that they are having the time of their lives.—Louis Dodge.

Disraeli said that every one likes flattery, but with loyalty you lay it on with a trowel; and nations are like royalty, only more so; they will swallow anything about themselves while wondering at the credulity of other nations.—A. Clutton-Brock.

That is just the way in this world; an enemy can partly ruin a man, but it takes a good natured injudicious friend to complete the thing and make it perfect.—Samuel L. Clemens.

Many things pass in handwriting which print shows up." Print is so impertinent—flinging open the door of a little room, where, perhaps, two lovers are communing, and saying to the public: "Have a look at them—these great people in love! You see, they are just as silly as little people."—Ellen Terry.

Stamp Profiteering Slow.

The lowest Lilliputians in the whole hierarchy of international finance are probably the stamp peddlers. There is hardly a person who was born on the other side who is not dabbling in some angle of foreign exchange, but the stamp men seem willing to operate on the most fractional margin of profit. Up and down the narrow streets of the Italian sections they go every Saturday night, displaying stamps that were made in Italy. They offer them to shoppers, generally following a boy who sells writing paper. No doubt they are to encourage early replies to letters in which they are inclosed. Occasionally a transaction involving a half sheet or so of stamps may be seen, so that small amounts of money may also be sent in this way to friends on the other side.—New York Sun.

Hard Blow Coming.

"How about a shock absorber?" asked the man who was buying a cheap car.

"We can put one on."

"No," said the purchaser. "But I'd like to have one sent to my wife in advance—she expects a limousine."

Egomania.

"Gabson seems to have a good opinion of himself."

"It's lucky he doesn't write biographies of distinguished people."

"Why so?"

"He'd use his own photograph as a frontispiece."

FOUND MANY PEDAL DEFECTS

Investigators Discovered Bad Condition of Affairs Among New York School Children.

The board of health of New York city has recently made a special study of the feet of the children in one of the public schools with a view to obtaining some idea of the prevalence of pedal defects among young boys and girls.

The examinations, made by orthopedic surgeons, appeared to show that such defects are much commoner than has been supposed. The number of children examined was 350. Seven per cent of the boys and 6 per cent of the girls were found to have deformed toes. Six per cent of the boys and 18 per cent of the girls had "flat foot." Forty-seven per cent of the boys and 74 per cent of the girls had "weak feet." Ten per cent of the boys and 17 per cent of the girls had ingrowing toenails. The feet of 39 per cent of the boys and 20 per cent of the girls revealed corns or other excrescences. Twenty-one per cent of the boys and 2 per cent of the girls walked with their toes turned in.

Most of these troubles were of a character admitting of correction and cure, with proper treatment. If neglected, said the surgeons, some of them might cripple and impair the efficiency of the children affected.

The surgeons recommended that all growing children be examined for such defects and that those affected be watched and treated, in order that later in life they may be "foot-sound."—Philadelphia Ledger.

BELONG TO PREHISTORIC DAY

Bones of Whales Possibly Ten Thousand Years Old Recently Unearthed on English Farm.

The skeletons of two whales, dating back, it is supposed, 10,000 to 12,000 years, were found by two workmen on a farm near Peterborough, according to the Westminster Gazette. Some of the teeth and bones were submitted to Doctor Garrood of Alconbury hill, Huntingdonshire, and he, in company with two zoological experts, visited the farm and obtained all the bones, with the result that one of the whales has been set up.

The whales were lying side by side under the peat, and just embedded in the clay. On the whole the bones are in good condition, and those that have been taken out carefully are scarcely broken. Unfortunately, the skulls are damaged.

It is believed that many thousand years ago these whales, and perhaps others, swam up a creek when the wash came further inland, and got caught at the top of a spring tide in a place where they were unable to turn.

Another theory has been advanced, though it is rather far-fetched. Some years ago a prehistoric boat was dug up in the same field, and the suggestion has been made that the crew of the boat was hunting the whales at the particular period.

Transposing the Terms.

A western jury had been called upon to decide a dispute over the ownership of some cattle which the defendant had been accused of stealing. It soon became apparent to all that he was innocent, and the jury was out but a few minutes.

"Judge," replied the foreman to the usual question from the court, "we find the plaintiff guilty."

"This court is trying the defendant, not the plaintiff," interposed the judge. There was a hasty consultation in the jury box, at the close of which the foreman rose again.

"Judge," he declared, "we find the defendant not guilty. Howsomever, judge, it 'pears like to us we been trying the wrong man."

Useful Fireplace.

At the Evanston (Ill.) headquarters of the Boy Scouts, a fireplace has been constructed for the study of geology and physiography, says Popular Mechanics Magazine. At the base are shown the different kinds of materials in their relative positions, that make up the strata of the earth. At the top, many different specimens of ore are shown. Models of a lake bed, and of a river bed, are also built into the fireplace, which is ornamental as well as useful, and it is asserted that the fireplace is the only one of its kind in the country.

New York Imports of Gems.

The diamonds and pearls entering this port annually would be worth literally about 50 cents to every person in the United States. The value of the cut and uncut gems entering last October was $3,440,710. In addition to the real thing imitation gems to the value of $42,723 entered during the same month.

Sixty Years a Golf Player.

Deputy Surgeon General Cooper of Norwood Park, England, who is ninety-three years old, has been playing golf for more than 60 years. The venerable medico, who is still working to correct a slice, played his first round on the historic St. Andrews course way back in 1858.—The Argonaut.

Reform.

"When you entered politics you announced yourself as a reformer."

"I am still a reformer," protested Senator Sorghum. "But I am obliged to be discreet, owing to differences of opinion as to which particular style of reform is entitled to precedence in public attention."

WARD OFF DANGEROUS "COLD"

Much Sickness May Be Prevented by Adoption of a Few Preventive Measures.

A few precautions will decrease the liability of catching cold from exposure to the rains of winter—as well as its snows. Some of the simplest preventatives are those that nature herself furnishes. No one goes to catch a cold when wet if he or she will walk or run home briskly. Wet clothing draws the heat from the body and lowers the temperature below normal. This is dangerous. But if the heat of the body is maintained by exercise, little or no harm results from the wet clothing. If obtainable, two or three lumps of sugar should be eaten. This helps the heart's action and supplies nourishment to the body.

Many deride the popular belief that it is impossible to catch cold from a wetting with sea water, but the statement holds much truth. The salt retards evaporation, and thus chilling of the body is delayed. Obviously, that is an advantage. Further, the salt acts as a stimulant, and assists the circulation of the blood. That is another advantage. Thus, unless in unusual circumstances, there is much less chance of a cold resulting from an immersion in the sea than in fresh water.

Those who feel much depressed in wet weather should form the habit of increasing their rate of breathing. The depression is due to the increase of vapor in the air, and the consequent proportionate decrease of oxygen. Quicker breathing, as is obvious, pumps more oxygen into the system, and the depression departs.

COREAN BOY MATURES EARLY

Youngster May Be Married at Age of Seven, According to Custom of the Country.

Any time after a Corean boy is seven he may be married, and he is seldom still unengaged at 12 or 14. At that time he winds his pigtail—if he still wears one in these crop-headed days—into a topknot and swaggers a bit in the presence of the unbetrothed. Formerly, if a Corean boy had any schooling at all he squatted all day on the schoolroom floor, learning to read and write, but not to speak Chinese, and he would have thought himself well educated if he acquired a vague knowledge of the maxims of Confucius. He often felt content to carry a "jiggy" or to drive a pack pony or even to act as nurse to the baby while his older brother wrestled with the Chinese classics. Under the new regime the school hours are still long and strenuous, but the boys pursue a Japanese course of study in Japanese. They probably would vote their games more interesting than any curriculum whatsoever. Their national sport is stone-fighting, which they carry on during the first fifteen days of the New Year. At the same season they have sky tournaments, in which they cut the string of one another's kites and take the falling kites as prizes.—Marietta Neff in Asia Magazine.

Root's Cleverness.

A lawyer who once opposed Elihu Root in a breach-of-promise suit tells this story: "My client, for all her broken heart, was a very pretty and vivacious girl. Root defended her—and me—by ending his defense with these words:

"'Gentlemen of the jury, do you really think that this charming young lady's life is blighted or that her prospects of getting married are prejudiced in the least? I don't suppose you do. There is not one of you who would be averse to forming the acquaintance of so delightful a person. Why, look at her now—she is actually smiling at me, but I must at once inform her that I am not in the matrimonial market.'"—Boston Transcript.

Unlucky Tom.

A real old-fashioned Yankee was telling a friend of the ill luck experienced by his son Thomas.

"Take the last case, as an example," he said. "Just as soon as he went to Boston to work, Tom fell in love. She lived in one of the suburbs, and directly Tom made up his mind he liked her, he went and bought a fifty-trip ticket to her place and—"

"Well, what happened?"

"What happened? Why, he was turned down at the second call and the ticket was left on his hands! Is that isn't hard luck, please tell me what is!"—Milwaukee Sentinel.

New Ship Signals for Use in Fog.

Most ship collisions in fog are due to the difficulty in detecting the exact direction that the whistle and bell signals come from. A veteran sea captain has devised a new method to overcome this.

He uses four signal horns of different tones, two sirens, a steam whistle and a steam gong, all operated by foot levers. Each of these corresponds to one of the cardinal points of the compass, and is sounded in a fog only when the ship is headed in that direction.

Sure of One Audience.

Having retold his favorite joke several times without eliciting even a polite smile from any of his listeners, Boggs turned angrily on his heel and muttered:

"I'll get a laugh on that story or I'll know the reason why. I'll go tell it to Smithers. He borrowed money from me yesterday."

SAW SIGNIFICANCE IN MOLES

Writer of Long Ago Pointed Out the Meaning of Spots on the Human Anatomy.

Have you a little brown mole concealed somewhere about your anatomy that you sometimes show to your friends—and sometimes don't? Well, every little mole has a meaning of its own, according to a chap-book that was current in the Eighteenth century, entitled "Dreams and Moles, With Their Interpretation and Significance" (printed and sold in Aldermary churchyard, Bow lane, London). Whether you are to be happy or unhappy, lucky or unlucky in life, depends upon where your little pet is located. Here are some of the interpretations given in the old chap-book:

A mole on the right shoulder denotes happiness to man or woman.

A mole on the left shoulder denotes a man to be quarrelsome, but a woman to have many husbands.

On the left cheek denotes frankness in man or woman.

On the left ribs, cruelty in man, vanity and pride in woman.

Near the right shoulder, you are to be a slave to love if a man, and to be beloved of great men, if you are a woman.

A mole on the right side of the abdomen means riches for a man and happiness in marriage for a woman.

One under the right breast presages good fortune in your ventures; on the back, riches and honor.

A mole on the right arm denotes that you will rule your own household; one on your left arm, that you will be a slave to duty.

A mole on the right hip signifies good fortune in wedlock to man or woman.—Kansas City Star.

WHEN 'SPECS' WERE NOVELTY

Many People Wore Them Because It Was Considered the Fashionable Thing to Do.

In the days when spectacles were introduced the world was not all wise. Glasses became so fashionable that people did not wait until necessity compelled them to adopt the new custom. Whether their eyesight was bad or good, those who would be stylish wore spectacles. In Spain they formed part of the costume of every well-dressed person.

The object of the wearer in putting on glasses was to increase the gravity of his appearance and render himself more directly imposing. A young monk, who had, through the assistance of his family, caused his order to succeed in an important lawsuit, felt himself liberally rewarded when the prior, having embraced him warmly, testified his gratitude by saying, "Brother, put on spectacles."

The glasses of spectacles were proportioned in size not to the eyes, but to the rank of the wearer, those worn by the Spanish nobles being as large as one's hand. The marquis of Astorga, viceroy of Naples, after having had his bust sculptured in marble, particularly enjoined the artist not to forget his beautiful spectacles.

Compass on Crossing the Equator.

The compass needle does not turn around in passing from one hemisphere into the other. The north-seeking end of the compass needle has no greater significance or meaning in the southern hemisphere than the south-seeking end of the needle has in the northern hemisphere. The compass needle is a piece of magnetized steel. It has its own positive and negative poles, or north and south poles, just like the earth. The needle and its lines of force align themselves with the earth's lines of force. In the northern hemisphere, the north magnetic pole exerts the dominating influence of the needle, so it points to that pole. The south end of the needle is disregarded. In the southern hemisphere the south magnetic pole exerts the dominating influence on the needle and it points to that pole, the north end of the needle in this case being disregarded. So the needle does not reverse in going from one hemisphere to another. The south end of it becomes the guide in the southern hemisphere, as the north end is the guide in the northern hemisphere.

Too Crowded.

So Daniel Boone was now on his way westward to Missouri, to a new land of fabled herds and wide spaces. Waving his last farewells, he floated past the little groups—till their shouts of good will were long silenced, and his fleet swung out upon the Ohio.

As Boone sailed down the beautiful river which forms the northern boundary of Kentucky, old friends and newcomers who had only heard his fame rode from far and near to greet and godspeed him on his way. Sometimes he paused for a day with them. Once at least—this was in Cincinnati, where he was taking on supplies—some one asked him why he was leaving the settled country to dare the frontier once more.

"Too crowded," he answered; "I want more elbow-room!"—Constance Lindsay Skinner.

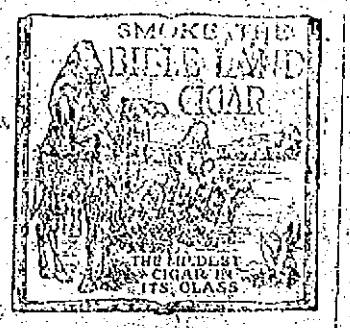

Art as We Get It.

"What is the subject of this photoplay?"

"It's a story of the great North."

"Big trees, snowstorms, love in the wilds and all that sort of thing?"

"Yes, and the hero is a pretty chap who's never been five hundred miles from steam heat in his life."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

WARNED BY PHONE

Telephone Transmitters Give Alarm of Breaking Dam.

Disaster May Be Averted by Spoken Word That Travels Faster Than the Flood.

Terrible disasters have been caused by the irresistible swirl of rushing floods, in which unsuspecting persons were caught without warning. In one instance, years ago, a gay party on a four-horse tallyho was enthusiastically exploring the wonders and beauties of Turkey Creek canon, near Golden, Colo. Gathering rainclouds failed to cast a shadow upon their high spirits, and no serious thought was given to danger from the rapidly approaching storm, because the tourists were not familiar with the characteristics of the local tempests, nor with the topography of the surrounding country.

The storm suddenly burst with great fury upon the unprepared pleasure seekers and the deluge of water caused them quickly to abandon the tallyho and hunt for shelter. Closely huddled against the towering sides of the canon, they soon realized, with anxiety, that they had not reckoned with the forces of nature. The terrific rush of water down the canon sides swept them from their feet, and down to the bed of the canon, where a torrent of water now raged. Despite their struggles, many of the party lost their lives, and those surviving were seriously injured.

Another instance was the great flood at Johnstown, Pa., and the more recent was the disastrous flood at Pueblo, Colo., where the toll of lives, and property damage, reached enormous proportions.

As a protection against such terrible events as these, a system of huge telephone transmitters and amplifiers has been produced which will throw the human voice a distance of four miles. Extensive tests have been made with this apparatus, which have proved the practicability and success of the endeavor. These tests were conducted in the Catskill mountains by a specially trained group of operators. A tower, thirty feet high, was erected to hold the gigantic amplifiers and the immense projectors which measured fifteen feet in length and four feet in height.

To determine just how far the human voice could be heard with these aids, was accomplished in rather a weird manner, because the time selected was at night. Four men took up previously agreed-upon stations, at distances of one, two, three, and four miles from the tower. As the time drew near for the experiments, the four men applied matches to specially prepared torches, which gave large, flaring flames.

Meanwhile at the tower were gathered a party of men chosen to observe the tests, and who interestedly watched the tiny flickering torches in the distance. When the "zero hour," or time set for tests, arrived, the operator at the tower took his place before the transmitter of the apparatus, and in a natural tone of voice, ordered the far-off men to wave their torches.

Breathlessly the watchers at the tower peered through the inky blackness at the flickering points of fire, and the nearest torch was seen to describe vigorous circles in the air. Exclamations of satisfaction came from the watchers, which rose to a shout, as the second, then the third, and finally the fourth torch was seen to dip and wave wildly in the darkness, thus showing plainly that all the men had heard the command. The operator at the transmitter then spoke to the men again, in reply to their ready signals, and bade them wait for further instructions.—H. A. Lane in Popular Mechanics Magazine.

$100,000,000 for Toys.

The people of the United States spent more than $100,000,000 for toys and games during 1921. The National City bank announces that the factory value of toys manufactured here more than trebled when the war cut us off from Germany, formerly the chief source of our toy imports. In 1919, the value of toys made here was $10,000,000 as against $14,000,000 in 1914.

Toy imports fell from $8,000,000 in the year before the war to $1,000,000 in 1918. In 1920 imports rose to $6,000,000, and this year to $10,000,000. Capital engaged in the industry here advanced from $10,000,000 in 1914 to $25,000,000 in 1919. Exports of American toys advanced from less than $1,000,000 in the year before the war to $4,000,000 in 1920.—New York Sun.

Wifely Solicitude.

In Days Beyond Recall.

"Talking about expensive drinks," said Boozem, "what about the one in which Cleopatra dissolved the pearl?"

"That's nothing," returned Jonkley. "I have put a whole farm in a julep myself."—Boston Transcript.

OLE WAS OBEYING ORDERS

First Five Hundred Miles Slowly, Said Agent, and He Intended to Do as Directed.

The agent of a certain popular automobile made a sale to a Swedish farmer in a small town near Topeka. In his instructions to the purchaser he said: "You must be careful."

"Ay skall do dat."

"Also for the first 500 miles you must drive slowly—not over 15 miles an hour—or you will burn out your bearings."

"Ay do dat, too," said Ole.

"Your car has two gears, high and low. If you want to go fast put 'er in high. If you want to go slow, put 'er in low."

"Yas, siree, you can bet on Ole—eef ay want to go fast ink evertang ay put heem in high, if ay want to go slow ay put heem in low. Shure, ay nd."

The next day the neighbors noticed Ole driving his new car up and down the road in "low." He kept it up until it began to snort and steam and was developing a terrific knock.

"Ole, you mustn't do that, don't you know you'll ruin your car that way—you'll burn up the bearings," they cautioned him.

"Ya can't fool Ole. Da boss who sold me das car told ma ay skall not drive over faffteen miles hour for 500 miles. He said to go in hurry put car in high gear, to go slow, lak turtle, put heem in low gear. Ay skall run 500 miles in low gear; get out vay quick; ay got 400 miles to go."

The neighbors argued, expostulated, then laughed, and Ole, with, "Ya skall al go to h—l," struck out down the road at 15 miles an hour in low gear.

CAUSE OF CANCER UNKNOWN

Dread Disease Has Baffled the Best Efforts of the Medical Fraternity for Centuries.

Medical science today knows no more about the cause of cancer than was known 1,000 years ago.

Some families seem to be immune. In other families deaths from cancer occur in generation after generation, as if to show a hereditary tendency.

There are many so-called "cancer houses," in which deaths from the disease have occurred with such lamentable repetition as to destroy their market value for selling or renting purposes. An evil repute attaches to certain well-known "cancer districts," in which the death rate from this malady is extraordinarily high. There is one such district in the Berkshires of Massachusetts, another is in the middle of New York state.

One of the many theories regarding the cause of cancer is that it is attributable to an undiscovered germ, carried by the bedbug or some other insect. If that were correct, the disease would surely be more prevalent among the slum-dwelling poor than among well-to-do people who enjoy the benefit of sanitary surroundings. But such is not the case; cancer is as common among the rich as in the tenement and poorer quarters of our cities.—Pittsburgh Dispatch.

Early English History.

The reason that the Norman conquest did not subjugate the English is explained by the fact that "Jutes, Angles, Saxons, Danes and Normans" were all kindred in race and so they united in one race; the Welsh, Irish and Scots were of the Celtic race. The Normans were not Frenchmen in the beginning but pirates from Scandinavia, who had come to France and had been given a tract of land. They adopted the French language and became in time the most courteous and noble people in Europe, but when they won the battle of Hastings, they were more nearly akin to the English or Anglo-Saxons than to the French, although they brought the French language to England, and many of their words were incorporated into the language. Because of racial differences the Welsh, Irish and Scotch did not unite with the English as easily, but the centuries have obliterated many racial characteristics because of many intermarriages.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Noise.

Every organ of your body develops resisting powers as you need them. A miller gets so used to the sound of his mill wheels that he ceases to hear them and can catch a whisper.

Put 50 identical machines in a room. Workers forget the noise. But, if one machine stops, the operator knows it instantly by the changed sound.

This power of the ears to adjust themselves to environment makes city life possible. Metropolitans live in an inferno of noise. The ears ignore it, in a large sense, though the noise is there, tearing away at the nervous system.

Emergency Case.

"I cannot countenance your kissing one of your patients, nurse."

"But, doctor, it was in my line of duty."

"How so?"

"This gentleman swore he'd die without it."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

True Economist.

He was an ingenious and ingenuous small boy. "Mother," he said on one occasion, "will you wash my face?"

"Why, Hugh, can't you do that?"

"Yes, mother, I can, but I'll have to wet my hands and they don't need it."—Harper's Magazine.

SUNG HIS OWN COMPOSITIONS

Thomas Moore, Famous Irish Poet, Was Surely Exceptionally Endowed by Nature.

Thomas Moore, Ireland's favorite minstrel poet, was born in rooms over a Dublin corner grocery in 1779, and died a baronet, the "pote of all circles and the darlint of his own," the idol of two continents, in 1852.

For the last thirty years of his life he lived in a cottage at Sloperton, near Devizes, Wiltshire, where he devoted himself to all manner of literary efforts. His works include not only delightful short poems of "The Last Rose of Summer" type, but also poems to form a quarto volume, such as "Lalla Rookh," for which Moore received 3,000 guineas ($15,000), and they include prose of all kinds, a series of humorous letters, biographies and even a "History of Ireland."

Moore himself was a beautiful singer and rendered his own compositions often in public, it is related. After the tragic death of his daughter he refused to sing publicly again. His daughter, the darling of his heart, was leaning over the balustrade one night to throw a kiss to her father as he was going out to dine, when she lost her balance, fell and was killed.

"The Last Rose of Summer" was one of Moore's most exquisite creations. It appears in a collection of "Irish Melodies," written for Power, a London music publisher, on a contract to supply a considerable number of songs for a volume entitled as above. The work was started in 1807 and was not completed till 1834. "The Last Rose of Summer," however, was among the early productions, and is therefore easily more than 100 years old.

LAWYER COULD NOT SEE IT

Legal Luminary Felt Himself Regretfully Compelled to Decline Offered Job of "Spellbinding."

"I want to take time by the forelock," he said as he entered a lawyer's office.

"Yes, sir! Yes, sir!" was the reply. "Always take time by the forelock and you won't get left. What is it, sir?"

"Well, we are to have an election this fall for city offices, and I wanted to know if I could engage you to make a speech for me the night before election."

"Are you going to be a candidate?" was asked.

"I am."

"But what about the speech?"

"Why, a feller is going to run against me again who beat me by 300 votes last year. In fact, I only got two votes. I want you to come up and give me such a speech that I will beat him worse than he beat me. You will want to lay it right down to him. He killed a horse once, and stole a sawmill, and has been married three times. If you will come up and present the case in a way to knock the feller out, I will give you $5."

The lawyer respectfully declined to take the case, and somebody will get snowed under again.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Bret Harte.

Bret Harte, American poet and novelist, was born at Albany, N. Y., August 25, 1839. While a youth he went to California, where, several years later he founded the Overland Monthly in San Francisco. In 1870 he was made professor of recent literature in the University of California, but resigned and returned to New York the following year. He was United States consul at Crefeld, Germany, 1878-80, and at Glasgow, 1880-85, and afterward lived in England. Among his many works are "The Luck of Roaring Camp," "The Outcasts of Poker Flat," "Condensed Novels, etc.," "The Heathen Chinee," "Poems," "Stories of the Sierras," "Tales of the Argonauts," "Gabriel Conroy," "Thankful Blossom," "Two Men of Sandy Bar," "California Stories," "A Millionaire of Rough and Ready," "A Drift From Redwood Camp" and "A Phyllis of the Sierras."

Her Daddy Was All Right.

When I was twelve years old I called upon Mary (aged eleven) one Sunday evening. I was all dressed up and had pilfered an armful of mother's cherished lilies from the garden. I stole out the alley gate, traversed Mary's back yard and she met me at the kitchen door. We sat on the back steps. I restrained a strong impulse to flee when Mary said, "Father is coming, I think." He was a gruff, bald man. When he saw us I was terror-stricken. What he said was, "How's the boy tonight?" and he took us both in the house and sent little brother after ice cream and Mary's mother cut a cake. So I wasn't kicked out by an irate father, after all; in fact, he still likes me and often jokes about the lilies and the kitchen steps, although another young man walked up the aisle with Mary.—Chicago Journal.

Doubtful Ending.

"Has your story a happy ending?"

"Well, that depends on the viewpoint."

"What do you mean?"

"Some might call it a happy ending and some might not. The lovers got married in the last chapter."

His Pride Lamp.

Father (reading a letter from his son at college to mother)—Myopia says he's got a beautiful lamp from boxing.

Mother—I just knew he'd win something in his athletics.—From the Orange Owl.

CAN DO WONDERS IN CANOE

Eskimos Are Literally Part of the Frail Craft Which They Have Named a "Kayak."

Built of sealskin, with the fur inside, stretched over a framework of wood, the Eskimo canoe—called a "kayak"—is only about ten feet long, and often not two feet wide at its widest part, tapering "to nothing" at both ends. The greatest width of the kayak is at the middle. Here there is a combing which slightly rises above the deck. The rest of the deck, save this hole just large enough to admit of the passage of the body of a man, is covered with sealskin.

When the Eskimo goes out in a kayak, he puts on a special sealskin, waterproof shirt over his regular clothing. With very great care he steps into the kayak, sliding his feet over the tender bottom until he is seated on the wooden seat which is only the thickness of the wood above the bottom. Then he draws over the combing the end of his shirt, which tightly fits the combing part of the kayak.

Experts of Greenland learn to turn a somersault in a canoe and come up again on even keel, an exchange states. But the best of the Eskimos of Greenland are not content with merely being able to right the kayak when it overturns. They practice until they are able to paddle the kayak in such a way that they shoot ahead on their course even as they turn that dangerous somersault in the sea.

POOR PLACE TO HIDE MONEY

French Peasant Now Convinced That Shotgun Is Unreliable as a Bank of Deposit.

The ingenuity of French peasants in hiding money has surpassed itself in the case of a man near Lorient who received a 1,000 franc note and a 500 franc note in payment for produce. He hid them in the muzzles of his double-barreled shotgun, believing that would be the last place thieves would search for money.

He made a mistake, however, in not taking his wife into the secret. A neighbor called a few days later, in the absence of the man of the house, and asked for the loan of the gun to get a hare.

The hare escaped and when the peasant came in that evening his wife remarked that the neighbor must be a very bad shot.

"Why?" the peasant asked.

"Because he used both charges of your gun on a hare without hitting it."

"My shotgun?" inquired the peasant with a gasp, at the same time making for the corner where the weapon hung.

The civil court of the department of Morbihan will have to decide the delicate point of law whether the neighbor is responsible for the loss of the 1,500 francs.

Few Slang Phrases Last.

The leniency with which some school teachers look on the use of slang, as reported in various interviews, may shock those of an age to have secured their idea of correct English from the McGuffey series of readers. It is true that the selections composing those readers were of an era wherein the language was at variance with what is heard today. It may have been stilted, but it did not corrupt the mind of the pupil. In fact, many persons got from the old fifth and sixth readers their knowledge of good literature. There was not a word resembling slang in the books.

It is true that slang is expressive. That is why it is used. Yet much of it quickly passes out of use because it is overworked. Few words suffer a like fate, though occasionally under stress of circumstances a word of creditable origin is repeated to the point where it becomes necessary to discard it because it is "shopworn."—Pittsburgh Gazette-Times.

Express Dragon Flies.

When we come to birds, we find many very high speeds. Swifts have been known to overtake an airplane in flight. Their speed has been calculated to exceed one hundred miles an hour sometimes. The racing pigeon has on several occasions done short journeys at sixty miles an hour. The golden plover is very speedy, but his turning, twisting flight makes it difficult to time him accurately over any distance. The pheasant, though he does not look a very rapid flier, can do 45 miles an hour.

Among insects, the most rapid is probably the dragon-fly, who does as much as 30 miles an hour in his swift dashes from place to place. The bee is capable of traveling at a speed of 20 miles an hour, and he achieves it by beating his wings more than 600 times a second—sixty beats for every yard he travels.

Gauges Food by Cans.

Dingley, who hails from the West and is merely a sojourner in the big city, sees all sorts of things to make him wonder.

"Out where I come from when you ask a waiter about the slowness of the service he always tells you 'It's on the fire.' But it's different here. A few evenings ago I ordered pork and apple sauce. The pork came in due time, but the apple sauce was missing. I inquired about it and the waiter replied: 'I'll have it for you in a minute. Just opening a fresh can.'

"If there's anything that doesn't come in a can the New Yorker thinks it isn't fresh, apparently. I'm afraid to order eggs for fear I'll learn they come in a can, too."—New York Sun.

Period Furniture.

The period of Queen Anne (1660-1714) marks a distinctly interesting phase of the development of furniture in England. What is known as Queen Anne Furniture had its inception in the reign of Charles II., extended through that of James II. and William and Mary, reaching the height of its popularity with Queen Anne, whose actual reign covered the period between 1702 and 1714.

Although severity in form began to depart from English Furniture under Charles II., it was not until the Dutch William of Orange and his wife, Mary, ascended the English throne in 1689, that the Dutch influence became predominant in design.

The beautiful lines of the furniture that William and his followers brought from their native Holland appealed to the English, who enriched the simple lines with carving, till they evolved what is now known as the Queen Anne style.

The graceful curves of the Queen Anne, evolved so many years ago for English manor houses, have lost nothing of their beauty in modern settings, and are altogether fitting in present day homes and the line of designs we are showing is distinctly successful in its fidelity to Period characteristics. We, Margeson Brothers, are having a February discount sale which should interest you to a large degree.

SHE TOOK OTHER WOMAN'S MONEY TO BUY CLOTHES

Went on Shopping Tour With $31 Belonging to Woman From Rye.

Mrs. Bessie Lemay Guilford, aged 17 who lives at Atlantic Heights, was arrested by Officer Demars on Saturday night charged with larceny.

During the evening Mr. and Mrs. Shaw of Rye were in a local theatre and in going out Mrs. Shaw dropped her pocket book. The police allege that Bessie saw the woman drop the pocket book and after following them out to the street, she returned and found it had been picked up by another woman. She promptly claimed it, and the woman readily gave it up and she immediately left the theatre.

Some time after Mrs. Shaw noticed the loss of her pocket book, went back to the theatre and the woman who picked it up at once told her it had been claimed by a girl. She accompanied the Shaws out on the street and after some little search located Bessie blowing the money in in a drug store. There was $31 in the pocket book and Bessie had, the police say, spent $25 of this buying a dress and some other clothing. Officer Demares was called in and Bessie was brought to the police station where she was booked for larceny. She has been a visitor at the station before.

RILEY–DUNTON

The marriage of Miss Doris Dunton of this city and Delwyn Riley of Kittery took place at the Court Street Christian church on Saturday afternoon at four o'clock. The ceremony was performed by the pastor, Rev. L. E. Follansbee, D. D., in the presence of a dozen or more relatives and friends of the couple. After the nuptials the couple received the heartiest congratulations of the assembled company and left the church after a hearty send off. They will take up their residence in Kittery.

The bride has held a position in the Oriental Store. The groom is employed on the navy yard. Both have many friends who extend to them best wishes for a happy future.

P. A. C. BARN DANCE TOMORROW NIGHT

One of the biggest crowds of the season is sure to assemble at Freeman's hall tomorrow evening to take part in the big barn dance, under the auspices of the Portsmouth Athletic Club. The club members have been working day and night to provide necessary requirements to make the affair pleasing from beginning to end. To make it an absolute success, the co-operation of the public, of course, is essential. It being an old fashioned barn dance, the public, generally, should costume; that is, the proper spirit, and it is hoped that all who can will help out by appearing in a costume appropriate to the occasion. There will be a big number of fellows in costume, and scores of girls too. Let no one be backward. You will find plenty of company and you will have twice as much fun.

Lets all pull together, girls, fellows, costumes, good cheer, etc. We want all to enjoy themselves to their hearts content.

BURTON-ROUSSEAU

Congratulations and best wishes were numerous today at the Armstrong Cafe from the friends and acquaintances of Manager H. H. Burton, who is now a member of the benedict army. The bride was formerly Miss Jennie Rousseau for sometime employed in the cafe. The wedding took place at Worcester, Mass., on Thursday last.

HOLD BROWN AND GRACE ROGERS ON ADULTERY CHARGE

County Solicitor and Sheriff to Make Further Investigation on Death of Child.

Howard Brown and Mrs. Grace Rogers both arrested at Sandown, on Sunday by the county authorities, appeared in police court here this morning to answer to the charge of adultry. They pleaded not guilty. On the evidence presented they were held for the grand jury in the April term of superior court in the sum of $1000.

No charge in connection with the death of a three year old child, Beatrice Cutting, was presented at this hearing although they were arrested in connection with the same as well as the adultry charge, following an autopsy held at Concord on Sunday when the child was sent from Sandown for interment. County Solicitor Waldron and Sheriff Spinney will make further investigation of the child's case before the couple are brought into court on a second charge relative to Beatrice Cutting whose body showed bad burns, bruises. The state pathologist declares that she received a blow on the head. The Solicitor and Sheriff left immediately after the court to take up the investigation at Sandown.

ENTERTAINED SCHOOL CHUMS WITH SNOW PARTY

Frank and "Buddy" Randall, sons of Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Randall of Lincoln avenue, entertained thirty of their schoolmates from the Lafayette school with a sleigh ride and party at the Country Club on Saturday afternoon. At the club they enjoyed the toboggan chute and other sports and a lunch was served. It was a merry party of youngsters and nobody had a better time than the two young hosts.

NOT THE BOSTON BEEF COMPANY

The market complained of by Meat Inspector Dr. Paul was not the Boston Beef Co. on Vaughan street. We challenge comparison of our products and invite inspection. The condemned beef was not ours and we wish to correct any wrong impression. Our meats are all high grade and the inspector has never rejected any.
